BACKGROUND: The devastating flood at the end of 1988 engulfed large landscape of the country causing huge damage of lives and properties, which also badly affected to the lives of the peoples in Sirajganj district that situated on the bank of the most treacherous river Jamuna. The national and international NGOs came forward to provide succor to the victims of this deluge. A group of local youth including Md. The experience they gained through it inspired them to take any sustainable development initiatives for the poor people. With this end in view, under the leadership of Md. Alauddin Khan, the “National Development Programme (NDP)” has established on 1st January 1992. It is a non-governmental organization, called as “NGO”. beneficiaries, local administrations and the UP. They produce reports based on the field findings and submit it to the management. The management takes appropriate measures where necessary. The progress is also monitored/review in the monthly staff coordination meetings held at organization's head/project office, which is documented in meeting minutes and circulated at field offices. Project experience sharing workshops are also organized with different stakeholders to exchange views and produce recommendations.

The following mechanisms are followed in monitoring and supervision the project:

Depending on duration of the project, sometimes, either annual, mid-term or end evaluation is done. The evaluation documents/reports are kept in the organization's head office thus analyzed by the senior management. The best learning practices are considered in designing of any project in the next or required modification in the project is made based on the recommendations.
